

For Each and Everyone Newly Arriving at our Patricia Garrison -

Welcome to this Garrison, where Patricia's and supporting people from all trades live and work together in a co-operative and supportive military atmosphere. If you are joining a Battalion or are Extra-Regimentally Employed on the Base, please feel free to keep in touch with whatever the other units of the base are doing. You can keep up with what is happening on the base through links and routine printed media that will be highlighted for you in this small package or in the Military Family Resource Centre (MFRC) Welcome Package. The Regiment – which includes every soldier of any trade posted to a PPCLI unit - is very committed to using social media effectively and you can start by following the posts and materials on ppcli.com (which features a regimental calendar and news) and ppcliassoc.ca (which has a branch directory – Edmonton Branch meets for a social drink monthly and hosts other activities – Herb Kenny is the President - hkenny@shaw.ca).

This Base has many services and clubs, and I encourage you and/or your family to make a point of visiting the MFRC as a first step. You should have already received their Welcome Package, and it contains much good information. Keep it at hand for several months while you adjust to life in this Garrison.

Take the time to visit the recreational facilities available to you and weave the use of these into your family routine. Everyone will benefit if you and your family are quickly settled in and integrated into the activities and opportunities that this base has and will offer to you. Please feel free to not only be active within your known circle but use the other places where you will meet other newcomers, such as the messes, the churches, the library, the clubs and fitness and retail facilities.

Equally, if you or any member of your family needs help in any way – be it with identifying support needed, or help with a schooling issue, or other more personal issues, please make sure that you ask for assistance at your unit or at any of the appropriate agencies represented in the MFRC. We in the Regimental family have a non-judgmental approach to ensuring that the needs of our members and their families are seen to be important and addressed properly – by doing so we all benefit from improved force readiness and a happier community. You are joining a military community that is glad to see you and your family. Please take advantage of the resources that are here for you, and let your unit know if there are things that you believe can be done better. By joining into this community and contributing to it, you will find rewards that go beyond the basic return of a smile or a loaned book. You will find a bigger family and a happy community.

Regimentally yours,

*Brigadier-General Vince Kennedy, OMM, MSM, CD
Colonel of the Regiment
Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry*

Regimental Headquarters

Regimental Headquarters (RHQ) is the full-time “general office” for all Regimental business. In addition to their responsibilities to the Regimental leadership, RHQ protects, preserve and promote the Regiment’s history, customs and traditions.

All members of RHQ are serving Patricias, all have served in rifle battalions and most members have deployed on operations. Members of RHQ understand the challenges of the soldiers in battalion and we are dedicated to stewarding our regiment’s image while Patricias are soldiering in the field.

All Patricias, serving and retired are welcome to contact RHQ for matters of Regimental interest.

RHQ duties include (but are not limited to):

- Operate the Regimental Kit Shop and manage Regimental finances.
- Maintain and operate the Regimental Museum and Archives.
- Operate the Regimental Veteran Care Cell.
- Edit and publish all Regimental publications- The Patrician and The New Soldier's Manual.
- Act as the coordinating agency for Regimental activities and protocol.
- Maintain liaison between Regimental members to include the wounded and families of the fallen.
- Maintain liaison with the Colonel-in-Chief (C-in-C), the Colonel of the Regiment (COR), units and Extra-Regimentally Employed (ERE) personnel.
- Act as the Public Affairs Office for the Regiment.

RHQ is organized as follows:

PPCLI Association Membership

The PPCLI Association has offered a free three-year National membership since May 2016. Very few released or retired Patricias take advantage of this offer. During the Regimental Strategic Planning Session held at CFB Edmonton on 9 August 2019, it was recommended that retiring and releasing members of the Regiment be automatically enrolled in the PPCLI Association. Accordingly, you will be registered in the PPCLI Association membership Data Base with a free three membership. If you do not wish to be a member, please advise RHQ accordingly.

The PPCLI Association traces its history to 1917 when the first PPCLI Service Clubs were established by wounded veterans returning from World War One. Rank was not important but being a Patricia meant the world. Men who were sent home and released because of their wounds sought out their comrades, forming loose groups that met on a regular basis discussing the war, their wounds and how best to try and fit into the regular world again. With the outbreak of World War Two, Patricia Service Clubs saw the Regiment off to war. They supported the Regiment by providing care packages and clothing to deployed soldiers.

On October 24th, 1947, Hamilton Gault, organized all clubs relating to the Regiment and formed the PPCLI Association for all ranks, retired and serving. On September 1st, 1953, the PPCLI Association was formally incorporated. The Association has kept abreast of changing times: in the 1990s, we sent care packages to the Regiment in the former Yugoslavia and in 2003, Operation Small Pack was started to support those who were injured and sent to Landstuhl Germany. This evolved into the Volunteer Patricia Program which was started to assist those returning to civilian life, and with PTSD.

Since June 2017, the Association has helped at least 100 individuals with problems ranging from PTSD, homeless, medical expenses or home modifications to dealing with VAC. To date, we have conducted eight Mental Health and Peer Support workshops and trained 184 volunteers across Canada and continue to strengthen this network.

We have all had to adjust to the transition of leaving our military career and the Regiment. For some this is a straightforward process. Others have had difficulty with transitioning to a civilian career. PPCLI Association Members can assist you with this transition by providing a venue to meet, discuss their challenges with transition and at the same time retain a connection to the Regiment. There are currently 13 Branches across Canada and an E Branch as attached. I strongly urge you to accept the free three-year National membership and join a Branch.

Once A Patricia, Always A Patricia

THE TEAM

The Museum is run by serving personnel posted to the establishment as well as one civilian Archivist. Posted positions are the General Manager and Collections Manager. Currently, a former member of 2PPCLI works on contract as an appraiser and heritage specialist. Together, these employees have experience in leadership, management, museum studies, appraisal, corporate knowledge of a museum, military history, and archival studies. In addition, full time staff are assisted by a team of volunteers who supplement work in Gallery operations, Collections management, research, and production of the Museum's tri-annual newsletter, The Gault Press.

THE SITE

Located in The Military Museums at 4520 Crowchild Trail SW, Calgary, the PPCLI Museum & Archives occupy some 8,900 sq. ft split between the 6,300 sq. ft on the main floor, which houses the current Patricia Gallery, and the 2,600 sq. ft of space in the securely caged lower level of the building. The Collections space has forty metal cabinets, some of which are fire and flood proof, and some fifty additional drawer spaces which combined hold over 15,000 artefacts and pieces of art. The Archives boasts research and work spaces, and an impressive collection of fonds holdings in eight modern filing cases on rollers, each providing storage space 8ft feet high by 20 feet long.

GIVING MATERIALS OR SUPPORT

For everyone who considers donating something from their past to a Museum, a key question is one of trust; will the recipients of this item hold it and protect it in trust for the future? The PPCLI Museum & Archives do.

If you are interested in supporting this establishment and thereby helping to preserve the legacy of PPCLI, you can make a donation to both Collections and Archives or on a monetary basis. Once a donor has completed a gift agreement and their contribution has been accepted, most donations are eligible for tax receipts. Artefact loans are also appreciated for the construction of temporary displays, and are returned promptly to the donor once an exhibition has concluded.

The PPCLI Museum & Archives have a fully developed standard operating procedure for receipt, inspection, accessioning, and holding materials donated to or acquired by the Museum. All staff and volunteers are trained in handling procedures, and those using delicate holdings are directly supervised by staff to avoid injury or damage.

HOW TO GET HERE

- Travelling on Crowchild Trail, take the turn off for Flanders Avenue (via Richard Road SW if travelling south).
- Turn right onto Amiens Road SW
- Continue onto Amiens Crescent SW and follow the signs
